

RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN TRIP

Louis Cohn Reaches Salt Lake After Interesting Journey on the Continent.

FOUND HOLLAND EXPENSIVE SOME SHOW OF HOSTILITY BY ITALIAN LABORERS.

just about double that of any other country in Europe. "From Holland our party traveled to Heidelberg, which we found to be a most interesting spot, and our stay there was delightful. In all Europe there is no more delightful place for tourists to rest than in Heidelberg. From this old student town we went to southern Germany and into France, and later into Italy. In Germany and in France we found that both of these countries had suffered to a great extent from the financial depression of a year ago. In many cities the servant girls had invested their savings in American securities, which they lost during the panic. This condition prevailed mostly in Holland. People all over the European countries complained of the panic and all felt the shock to some extent.

"In Austria we found a most happy and interesting lot of people who seemed happy at all times and free from care and trouble. They were all dressed in their 'comic opera' costumes. People in all parts of Europe express a kindly feeling for the United States and like its people. One little village in southern Italy was the only place where there was any hostile feeling against the people of this country. While we were there we noticed a most beautiful statue of George Washington. A few weeks later, after our leaving, we learned that the statue had been torn from its mounting and thrown in the lake by a gang of Italians, who believed that their countrymen were not treated with due respect in the United States.

"It is to the advantage of the European people to be on good terms with this country. During certain seasons of the year the shops in Paris and in other cities depend largely on the trade of the American tourists for their support. In the smaller shops of Paris the tourists are robbed without mercy. The shopkeepers have a high price for the Americans, a little lower price for the English and still lower price for the Germans. The American tourist is the one who pays the highest

HEART OF FAIR FOOTBALL FAN GOES TO FORMER GRIDIRON HERO

Another pretty little romance which had its beginning here last Thanksgiving day on Cummings field between C. E. Colton of Lincoln, Neb., and Miss Genevieve Luman of Salt Lake, was closed in part I a few nights ago by the marriage of these young people in Denver. Colton was formerly the star tackle for Nebraska university in its championship days and was induced to referee the game here last Thanksgiving between the University of Utah and the Colorado college. Shortly before going on the field he was introduced to Miss Luman.

The affections of Miss Luman were at that time being eagerly sought by Will Ferguson, who by his sensational kick in the last half of the game, won the victory for Utah, but while he was being congratulated by his admirers for his wonderful kick, he realized that he had lost the idol of his eye to the referee. Miss Luman is a graduate of North Park seminary, Washington, D. C. Colton was one of the best players on his team up to the time he graduated in 1906. He is now following his profession as a mining engineer, with offices in Jasper, Colo. The wedding was an informal affair and was attended only by the immediate families of the bride and groom. They were married by Rev. Dean Hart of St. John's Episcopal church. The bride was attended by Miss Fennee Loughbridge, who was a school mate, and Miss Mary Luman, her sister. R. E. Colton, a brother to the groom, was best man. A reception was held at the Sherry hotel immediately after the ceremony.

SPRINGS ANOTHER SURPRISE

Fitzgerald Stops Court Proceedings and Agrees to Go Back to Texas.

W. H. Fitzgerald, alias Feeney, the object of much solicitude on the part of Texan officials, has again shown his ability to spring a surprise. His latest one came yesterday.

Just when everyone was expecting to see a hard fight put up by him to secure his release from custody under a writ of habeas corpus, he dumfounded the court room by announcing to Judge Armstrong, in his suave, easy tones, that he had concluded to waive his rights and that he was ready to accompany the sheriff back to Texas without the formality of extradition papers.

Even the court and local officials had Sheriff Hughes taken by surprise, but none so much so as Fitzgerald's own attorneys. Expostulations with him were vain, and even the suggestion that when the extradition papers arrived the law might be found that would render them invalid, failed to cause a change of mind. "No," Fitzgerald is reported to have said, "I'm going back. I want to be on the ground, and it won't take but a short time to get everything straightened out. At best they can only charge me with obtaining money under false pretenses, and I am informed that my parents in the east are ready to fix the matter up." Fitzgerald still maintains his smoothly fitting air of confidence and nonchalance, and evidently does not have any particular fear of returning to Texas. Sheriff Hughes will leave with his prisoner over the Denver & Rio Grande at 8:10 this morning.

At a meeting of the board of health this week it was decided to present a recommendation to the city council for the appointment of a city health inspector; also to pass an ordinance prohibiting the building of out-closets only on the city vault plan, which is the most sanitary.

It was also decided to ask the board of health to put a sanitary building in the city. Considerable excitement was caused last evening by the straying from the city of two of William Kottner's little children. The fire bell was rung early in the evening to call out a searching party, who started in search of the children. A message came in by phone shortly after this, stating that the little girls were found at the home of Mrs. Annie Johnson.

Natural Principles Recommend Chiropractic

The whole system of Chiropractic is based entirely upon natural principles. If a certain part of the body suffers, there must be a cause. There must be a disordered condition somewhere. Chiropractic searches out and removes the cause, assisted only by nature.

Chiropractic is not a "faith cure." It is not a "healing" process. It is a system of helping nature readjust disordered portions of the body.

Many a woman in Salt Lake today would give all she possesses to be relieved of her suffering. Yet Chiropractic gives certain and permanent relief in every case. If you suffer, see me today.

THE MAYOR WAS ABSENT.

But the City Solons Managed to Worry Through the Business on Hand.

Park City, Nov. 20.—The semi-monthly meeting of the city council was held last evening in the recorder's office at the city hall, and but very little business was transacted.

Owing to the absence of Mayor C. M. Wilson, President Deighton called the council to order, and all of the solons were present.

The minutes of the previous session were read and accepted without correction on motion of Wright and Peterson.

Under the head of petitions and communications a letter from H. M. Short, for the school board, was read, asking that the mayor and members of the city council take up the matter of making Park City a city of the second class.

Some little discussion the letter was tabled until the next regular meeting, on motion of Wright and Gelch.

Bonds for "Jug" licensees were made out and presented at this session from Blyth-Fargo company, George Manning, Anderson & Colman and Salisbury & Stevenson.

The members of the special committee were unable to make a report at this session and further time was granted.

After a few minutes of discussion on the drug store license an adjournment was taken to meet again on Thursday, evening, Dec. 3.
